A green take on take-away

The EU Parliament on 27th March adopted the Directive on the reduction of the impact of certain plastic products on the environment. The regulation is believed to be the most ambitious plan to combat plastic littering in the world.

Duni welcomes the regulation and the collaborative efforts for recycling and new eco-products that this will support. We share the very real concerns of plastic waste in our oceans. Duni is at heart a paper company, producing natural fiber-based articles for more than 70 years. 90% of our products are based on paper fiber.

Our customers are already demanding sustainable products, and growth of our ecoecho[®] assortment is the highest in all Duni categories. In our ecoecho[®] assortment we offer 100% fiber based, plastic free alternatives such as bagasse and compostable bioplastics and recycled plastics. Since several years, focus has been put on development within the ecoecho[®] product range.

In our strategy 2019-2023 we are determined to become:

The best partner for sustainable solutions

We will focus on:

- Eco-products for every goodfoodmood[®] occasion
